Steam and Electric Roads.

"I never thought that the steam railroads looked at the electric road matter as they should in the first place," remarked a well posted railroad man. "The late James T. Furbur of the Boston & Maine, was the only man whom I believe ever looked at it aright. In the days when the electric motor as a means of transportation was evident, I believe the steam roads should have met the emergency, and instead of making an enemy of it, utilized it for their benefit. It was evident that the electric transportation had come to stay, and instead of fighting it off they should have secured the right to build all the trunk lines possible, and have worked it in conjunction with the others. In every section where it would pay they should have built a line so that it would have fed the steam line with freight and passengers, as well as accommodated everyone in its vicinity.

"In the greater number of cases the roads could have been made self-supporting, as they are now, and in the others the addition of the freight that would be brought to the doors of the steam roads would have more than compensated. Then the competition would not have been great.

"As it is I can't see where there has been any great inroad made on the competition of the electric roads, as the latter seems to have created a demand for their own use that does not detract greatly from the use of the steam roads.

"It is not too late now for the steam roads to awaken to their opportunity in many cases, and take the benefit of the electric road where there are none, or to even purchase where they are situated."

Oh, sing a song of temperance
That shall make the hills resound,
Where happy homes are found;
Where the children, once neglected,
Fronally with their father's hand,
And with mother by the fireside
Form a loving cheerful band.

Oh, sing a song of temperance:
No more rage nor want of bread,
The shelter of our pledge
Since to the shelter of our pledge
For father stays at home once more,
And mother's little and gay,
For we are temperance workers
And are happy, every day.

Oh, sing a song of temperance,
And drive the demon from our land
Who would his duty shirk?
Who would his duty shirk?
That monster who despoils our homes
And to many crimes gives birth,
Let us sing our songs of temperance
Let us drive him from the earth.

Oh, sing a song of temperance,
And drive the demon from our land
Who would his duty shirk?
Who would his duty shirk?
That monster who despoils our homes
And to many crimes gives birth,
Let us sing our songs of temperance
Let us drive him from the earth.

D. F. Dunn, who has been foreman in the last room at the shoe factory several years, closed his engagement, Saturday night. He has not yet decided where he will go.

Capt. J. Waldo Nash, taxidermist, has just finished "setting up" a 6½ pound trout. It is on an oak panel and looks as natural as life. The trout was caught by Eugene Lewis of New York at Moosemagnum Lake, Aug. 4th, and will be shipped to him at New York.

Fortunate Accident (?)
We are very glad to learn that the accidental shooting of Chas. W. Whitehouse, of Lisbon Falls, a former Norway boy, is not so serious as was at first reported. As his Norway friends are anxious to hear from him we print his letter written, the 26th—

I received my copy of your paper to-night and see that I have been seriously wounded by a gun shot. I am only too thankful to write you that although I was shot and received 36 shot in my head, face, neck and body, none of them are serious and I am able to attend to my work, and but for looks and a little inconvenience in eating (having to eat liquid food) I feel as well as ever. I was most decidedly a very fortunate accident for me in that I have both eyes all right. Yours very truly,
CHAS. W. WHITEHOUSE.

Rev. B. S. Rideout delivered his lecture on Idiosyncrasies, Monday evening, the 23d, under the auspices of the Dover High school. The lecture was pronounced fine. Mr. Rideout's brother, W. J. Rideout, is principal of the Dover High school.

J. Wesley Swan is now making for the Grand Trunk Railway System the new "Art Study" photos of scenes along the route of the railroad. These pictures have something of the clear, velvety look of the old time steel engravings, but much more perfect and natural.

Krumpanitzky-Cobb.
A quiet wedding was solemnized, Thursday morning, Sept. 14, at the residence of Mrs. S. W. Cobb, at Durango, Colo. The contracting parties were Henry Krumpanitzky of Mancos, Colo., and Grace W. Cobb. The house was tastefully decorated with clematis and sweet peas. Only the immediate relatives were present. After the wedding breakfast the couple were driven to the depot, where they took the train for their home at "The Gables," Mancos, where the groom and his brother are engaged in ranching and stock-raising.

Miss Cobb is the daughter of the late S. W. Cobb, who was in company with J. Wesley Swan in the photograph business, under the firm name of Swan & Cobb. Miss Cobb was well known in our village during the residence here, where she has many friends, and is a most estimable young lady.

The couple start out in married life under most favorable conditions for future happiness and prosperity.

The Piscataquis Observer says—"Fra A. Sutherland has been in town, this week, on a business trip. He says the only trouble to-day with the wholesale clothing business is to get the goods to sell. He is very much pleased with the outlook for the sheep business and must have a better opinion than ever of his Montana sheep ranch." Mr. Sutherland is an owner in the A. L. Sanborn & Co.'s clothing business of this town.

Alice Smith and Bertha Holmes of Colby College, '03, were initiated into the mysteries of Beta Phi, Oct. 25. The society had a banquet at the Bay View after the initiatory services. This hotel is run by C. G. Tibbets formerly of Norway. The banquet was something unusual, it being one of the best that land-lord Tibbets has set out for a long time. Nothing that would add to the pleasures of the evening was left undone by him. The dining hall was trimmed in a very tasty manner and the tables never presented a more attractive appearance. Grace B. Holden, a Norway girl, responded to the toast "Goodnight."

The evangelist H. L. Gale, was unable to hold services at the Congregationalist church, Monday evening, because of the severe illness of his wife's father. It was a great disappointment to many.

Mrs. Christiana R. Wilson.

Jones, Penney French, and Mrs. L. G. Stone, accompanist. Among the floral tributes were:

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience in the use of that splendid medicine and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by Noyes Drug Store, Norway; F. A. Shurtlett & Co., South Paris. 44-47

RECORD OF THE PAST
No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had.
Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by, is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from any kidney ills, will find in the following evidence proof that relief and cure is near at hand:
Mr. Patrick O. Dwyer, mason, of 62 White street, New Haven, Conn., says: "In 1895 when Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of backache which always bothered me when I caught cold, which hurt me when I stooped, or straightened after stooping, which refused to disappear under treatment of different medicines, I was only too pleased to let the people of New Haven know the fact through our newspapers. Three years from that date, or in the month of May, 1899, I just as ardently recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I did when they effected the cure mentioned above. My advice to anyone suffering from kidney complaint is, call at a drug store, procure Doan's Kidney Pills, take them as directed, and you will be surprised at the results."
Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HEBRON.

Vivian Beare and Robert Glover are working on the girls' dormitory.

Rev. Dr. Crane exchanged with Rev. Mr. Clark of Mechanic Falls, last Sunday.

Work on the girls' dormitory is progressing finely. Workmen are now slating the roof.

Mrs. W. H. Porter and Mrs. Rose L. Crocker of South Paris were in town, last Wednesday.

The Trustee House at Hebron Academy burned, Tuesday morning, at three o'clock. The furniture and most of the contents of the main building were saved. The greatest loss was in the porch and storeroom where the fire originated. Some of the young ladies who roomed over the kitchen lost most of their clothing. The building was insured. Rooms were at once procured for all of the occupants of the building and the school will go on just the same.

CASCO.

Ella Meserve is in poor health.

Harriet Meserve, who has been away a summer, has returned home.

Mr. Green, the Bridgton baker, made his last trip for the season on the 25th.

Stevens & Davis from Sebago Lake have been packing apples at E. A. Barton's, the past week. Files & Parrott are at Hall Edwards' packing apples.

As Willie Cook was returning from Poland on the morning of the 25th, when near Webb's Mills, he was run into by another bicyclist and knocked off his wheel. After a fearful struggle he managed to get to his home about 1 1/2 hours after the accident. He got a bad shaking up and a gash cut in his forehead, which as well as could be expected. The wheel was not injured but will said "I wish it had stove it all to pieces."

As Willie Cook was returning from Poland on the morning of the 25th, when near Webb's Mills, he was run into by another bicyclist and knocked off his wheel. After a fearful struggle he managed to get to his home about 1 1/2 hours after the accident. He got a bad shaking up and a gash cut in his forehead, which as well as could be expected. The wheel was not injured but will said "I wish it had stove it all to pieces."

Mr. Green, the Bridgton baker, made his last trip for the season on the 25th.

A rumor is current throughout this part of the town that a married woman with two children, one a babe, has eloped with a young, unmarried man, taking the horse and carriage of the husband with which to make their departure to parts unknown.

There was a very large crowd at the auction at the George Warren place, last Tuesday, and a majority of the numerous miscellaneous articles brought fair prices. The farm itself was not put up, and it is understood that it has been disposed of at private sale.

Scarcity of water at the saw mills in and about Bridgton has made it difficult to obtain lumber for the new hotel now being built there. Col. Hapgood is now getting out material at his mill and hauling it there, as is also Mr. Emerson of the saw mill. The drought has not affected our stream so severely as it has many in this section.

The "Grant place" so called on the Sweden road near Mutiny brook, which has been unoccupied since the house was burned quite a number of years ago, has been sold by its owner, E. Brown, of New York, to Samuel Clark of Hallowell. We understand that it is the intention of the latter to erect a house at some future time, although not at present. The location of this property is one of the most attractive of the many picturesque spots in this town. With Bear pond in front, Bear and Hawk mountains in bold relief on its left, and Mason's hill on its right, the whole makes a picture worthy of an artist's brush.

It is said that at the gospel temperance meeting under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., at the Baptist church, Sunday evening, Oct. 22, the women talked to the point, but as usual some of the men in order to talk and talk against time brought "John" to his feet. Now we all know John and when he has anything to say he says it. And this is what your informant said he said: You women can talk, you can pray, but can't vote. This is the way we have to live, can talk, can pray, but how do we vote? I don't believe the Almighty will pay any attention to prayers we can answer ourselves.

Every little while a lump comes here in some form. The latest to arrive were two men with a span of horses, who claimed to be taking pictures of people to enlarge and beautify. Your humble correspondent did not happen to be in a "gullible" mood when they called and was not victimized as some of the people were. In some instances people trusted these strange men with choice pictures of friends and relatives deceased, which can never be replaced if lost. Why folk place so much confidence in total strangers? If I am rightly informed they left a board bill unpaid and collected considerable money. A man must be more than a scoundrel to take the only picture of some deceased relative, which money would not buy, and not return it.
